My favorite kind of contagious is the one in which you catch excitement about upcoming events. Who are the carriers of this excitement virus?? New Members!

Many of us have been involved with GWRRA long enough that we have an extremely long string of year bars on our head pins. Right Mr. Huey? Yet folks like Dave wouldn't miss a Wing Ding or Rally for all the blinker fluid in the world.

We can pontificate (fancy word for expressing our opinions as if we know everything) as to why attendance has been lower lately. No doubt Covid had something to do with it. Recruiting new Members (aka carriers of the excitement virus) has been at an all time low. The 'been there, done that' proclamation has been heard around the District. You may think that all or some of these reasons have some weight to them, but the affect that these reasons have on the events is huge.

When I hear the new folks talk about attending these events, it brings me back to when I was new. It also reminds me as to why people join this family. We truly enjoy each other's company. We enjoy sharing our life milestones, like phone in hand showing off grandbaby pictures. I learn so much about the bikes we love, the sharing of tips and tricks for maintaining them and warnings of potential issues. Have you been in a group when they discuss the best tires or the best oil?

Yeah, the vendors have not been as plentiful at the events, online shopping has put a dent in that. Maybe if we support the vendors, they'd be more apt to come. Got any suggestions for vendors for our Rally? The Swap Meet at our Rally has been successful. I think we sell as much as we buy! So much for cleaning out the closets.

This brings me to cost, another complaint we have been hearing. We did a study of the latest registration fees and hotel costs for our Rally, Wing Ding and other District's rallies.

Rally	TN	NC	VA	Wing Ding
Registration	$30.00	$35.00	$50.00	$40.00
Thursday Dinner	N/A	N/A	Included	N/A
Ice Cream Social	Included	N/A	Included	N/A
Hotel Stay	$450.00	$255.00	$330	$645.00

Our Rally registration has been $35.00 for years. Considering that we now offer a Hospitality Room without contributions from Chapters, a Hospitality Room that offers breakfast items, to help save you money. Take into account that we no longer ask for donations for door prizes, Chapter Baskets, Couple's Baskets, table decorations or food entries into a cookie/cake contest. That cost comes directly from the Members in Chapter 50/50 sales or event profits.

Other than the benefits that come with hanging out with us at events, the other benefit comes from attending as a Chapter. You can ride together, in cars or on bike. You can plan a Chapter theme for costumes or put together a skit for the talent shows at some rallies. You can dine together, explore the area together, volunteer as a Chapter…all important for retention and a healthy Chapter life.

Please reconsider. Check out the flyers attached to the newsletter. Catch the virus! Come show the new kids how to have fun. See you at Wing Ding!! Virginia Rally!! District Rides!!

... to chat with many of you both in and out of the VA District, we found that many of us have the same concerns: decreasing participation in our respective Chapters/Districts. We are all about sharing tips and ideas that have been successful for others.

Bob & Karla Greer, Asst Directors of the GWRRA Membership Enhancement Program, saw an intriguing post on a Facebook page from a Chapter in Canada regarding their chapter participation. Bob asked about their process and accomplishments. The original poster, Dave Ward, gave his permission for Bob to share. We found the information insightful and hope you will, too!

From Dave Ward, GWRRA BC-A:

Thanks for your comment on the MEP Facebook page. In answer to your question about how we do things, regular and consistent communication to all the members is paramount to getting them to participate. We experimented over the last few years because we just weren't getting the turnouts we hoped for. Primarily, the COVID lockdowns and gathering restrictions were hampering our efforts to get together. We instituted a monthly Zoom meeting, using Giselle's corporate account from where she works. Using it, we didn't have to worry about the number of participants and the length of the meeting. This quickly became a weekly event and even to this day, we regularly get 10-15 members to check in every Thursday evening.

During the COVID lockdowns, we also took the time to phone elderly or retired members and ex members to see how they were doing and check up on them.
Here is what we do on a regular basis:

- I keep an updated email list of all our members. I send out a weekly email to all the members to remind them of the Zoom call and any other chapter and district events that may be coming up. I have set up our website to also receive these emails that are then automatically posted on the site (https://gwrra-bca.org). Members and visitors can also sign up on the website to receive these posts.

- We have a Facebook page which is a private group page. The only requirement there is to be a member of GWRRA to be accepted. We post there and encourage our members to join and post their ride stories and information as well.

- Our newsletter editor has been doing a phenomenal job these last couple of years with a monthly newsletter. Each month he profiles one of our members and goes out of his way to provide interesting articles, some submitted by members, some from outside sources. He never ceases to amaze us with his articles.

- We have scheduled "coffee meets" every Saturday, Sunday, and holiday mornings at a pre-determined location. We are currently meeting at a Tim Hortons / A&W location that is central to most of our membership. We also meet there every Tuesday evening after work for a coffee and/or ride. There are a group of regulars that meet there all the time, with a few others that don't necessarily show up all the time.

- We have a monthly breakfast meeting at a nice restaurant that has easy access for our members, no matter where they may be driving/riding in from.

- We have a quarterly "Chapter Team" meeting. This has been held recently at our home where Giselle has put on a meal of some sort before we get down to business.

Our more senior members always take the time to introduce themselves to new members at these meets and invite them to ride with us. We have recruited many new members through these coffee meets. Owning a Gold Wing is not a prerequisite. We have HDs, BMWs, Moto Guzzis and other brands in our group. We NEVER talk down on any make or model. ALL bikes are welcome.

Communication is the key. I cannot stress this enough. Regular email blasts, Facebook posts, website posts. It all comes together to keep the members informed, involved, and up to date with what we are doing. These efforts reinforce to our members what GWRRA stands for - Fun, Friendship, Knowledge and Safety.

As a side note, our website has been instrumental in recruiting new members. I am not sure what our Google rating is and don't really care. On the main page is a form for people to fill out for more information. I get the email notification and make a point of answering as many questions as possible. I have personally recruited several new members through this form over the last couple of months.

I have 5 email accounts set up on my iPhone. One for work, one personal, one for the chapter, one for the district and one for the webmaster. I do not have ANY unread emails – it is a very good habit to read and respond to all emails as quickly as possible. I even quickly browse through the spam folders just in case something gets missed. I have seen and know of many people that show hundreds of unread emails on their devices (no, I am not snoopy, just observant). To me, this is unacceptable and is also a policy with the very large company I work for (Johnson Controls) – all company emails MUST be replied to within 3-6 hours on the day it was received if at all possible.

Many of these ideas are some that we have been encouraging you to do. In reading the above, you can see that it DOES make a difference!

Hope to see you all soon on one of our upcoming District Rides!

How to have fun Riding a Motorcycle During Rush Hour...

[How to have fun Riding a Motorcycle During Rush Hour - (1aamotorcycles.com)]

Bob Beltz
VA-District
Asst District Educator
bbeltz1@icloud.com

One of the major thrills of owning a motorcycle is the freedom that comes from having the wind rush along besides your body while zipping across the open countryside. And yes, there is also the fact that you are not as constrained in terms of where you can go as is the case with every other vehicle. That is particularly the case when it comes to rush hour traffic.

A different experience: The Thrill of the Ride

Riding your motorcycle during rush hour is, we have to say, an entirely different experience than on the open roads. The experience comes with both thrills and perils. There is knowing that you are able to go where other motorists cannot go. You imagine yourself being the envy of your fellow road user; the less adventurous folks who are stuck in their cars and can hardly move.

The envy that your ability to navigate through the seemingly impossible gaps in traffic generates is real enough. You only need to watch YouTube motorcycling bikes to understand what we are talking about. Hundreds of videos exist on the site of angry motorists who, unable to fathom the thought of some motorcyclist going past them while they are stuck in traffic, have blown a fuse or two.

The results are often hilarious, particularly today when there are seemingly cameras everywhere. Fun is, however, not all that there is to these encounters.

Riding a Motorcycle During Rush Hour: The Peril

Motorcycles are, without a doubt, one of the deadliest forms of transformation that can be found out there. Just consider the fact that where 13.10 cars out of 100 000 end up in fatal crashes, the figure, for motorcycles. A large number of the accidents that occur with motorcycles occur as a result of the clashes with other motorists that occur during rush-hour. Although it is thrilling to be able to go where others cannot go, the dangers that are inherent therein are one of the reasons why most people are rather reticent about taking up motorcycling. However, this does not need to be the case.

Motorcycle Rush Hour Riding Tips

Following the tips that are given below will guarantee that you will have a safe motorcycling experience, even during rush hour.

Recognize your own vulnerabilities

Although there is always the thrill, as we have already noted, there is also always the fact that, as a motorcyclist, you are much more vulnerable than every other driver on the road. This is one of the thing that you need to be cognizant of while riding your motorcycle during rush hour. We all want to be like those daredevil riders that we watch on YouTube, right?

The unfortunate thing is that we can't all be like that. What you need to do, in any case, is have commonsense while riding your motorcycle in heavy traffic. This is particularly applicable if you are a new motorcyclist. So many of your sense have to be in play at once while you are in the midst of heavy traffic that you may be overwhelmed into making a silly but fatal mistake. The right approach involves taking it slow and going only where you can confidently go.

Watch out for Mirrors
Many a motorcyclist have collided with mirrors while trying to squeeze through tight gaps in heavy traffic. While this tends to be a minor incident when the vehicle in question is stationary, colliding with vehicles that are in motion can become serious by putting you off balance.

Watch over your Shoulders
Staying upright on a motorcycle takes much more effort than is needed when driving other types of vehicles. One of the major challenges comes from having to quickly glance over one's shoulders. What you need to understand here is that although you mirrors are enough to give you an overview of what is happening behind you, that is really never the complete picture. The same, it has to be said, applies with any other vehicle. This makes it necessary for you to quickly glance over you should before making your move; which can be difficult, since both actions need to be almost simultaneous.

Watch Out for Off-ramps
You also need to, while riding your motorcycle on a busy road, watch out for off-ramps. These represent a major cause of the motorcycling deaths that occur every year. A number of drivers simply decide to take off-ramps at the last moment, leaving you vulnerable if you are in the wrong place.

Always have fingers on the brakes
A universal rule for riding a motorcycle during rush hour is to always be ready to use your brakes. This applies even more than it would under normal riding conditions. Often, you are confronted by situations where you need to make sudden stops. You should, therefore, be ready to do so at the slightest sign of trouble. Remember that not all of the drivers who are out there are gracious about having motor cyclists pass by while they are stuck in the midst of traffic. That is a reason for you to always exercise caution when riding your motorcycle during rush hour.

The Dangers of Lane Splitting
Lane Splitting is one of the things that we constantly see in the motorcycling vehicles that are posted to YouTube. This, in effect, involves the sharing of a single lane with another vehicle. Although it may appear to you as if there is plenty of room for you to ride along, doing this can be particularly dangerous where there is heavy traffic.

Have your lights on
One of the dangers of riding a motorcycle is the fact that you are usually not that visible to other motorists. That is why it is important for you to make sure that you turn your headlights on whenever you are riding your motorcycle during rush hour. You can also increase your visibility to other drivers by wearing reflective clothing.

Wear your Helmet
Our final tip when it comes to motorcycle safety is a bit of commonsense; you should always wear your helmet. Motorcycle helmets are designed to reduce the impact on your head should you be unfortunate enough to be involved in an accident.

Experienced riders don't mean to do it. Being complacent. Making mistakes. It "just happens" we tell ourselves. But does it have to happen? Not really.

GWRRA VA SCRABBLE GAME

This is a fun idea we got from our Indiana GWRRA friends that encourages us to explore our great State of Virginia! There are 3 contests and you may participate in one, two, or all three. Just remember a photo must be taken in front of something "official" to prove you were there (ie: "Welcome to" sign, the Police Department, Courthouse, etc). We're not getting caught up in the legal differences between cities, counties, towns, townships, and unincorporated townships. If your "city" passes the Google test, you're Golden. An example is provided below. For the first contest period, we started the board with pre-populated letters (GWRRA GOLDWING). You must start your adventure using these letters. Think strategically as names cannot be repeated from previous boards for the year.

You earn 1 point for each city & each letter. Two-word cities run together. For example, "Newport News" would be entered as "NewportNews."

Your completed game board MUST be turned in by the deadline for each contest. Rulings of the District Team are final.

The high points earner for each contest period will receive $25. The overall high points winner will win $50 and will be awarded at Rally in the Valley. In the event of a tie score, a random draw will be held.

Contest Periods:

Contest #1:	Apr 1 – May 31, 2022	Submission Deadline: June 10, 2022
Contest #2:	June 1 – July 31, 2022	Submission Deadline: Aug 10, 2022
Contest #3:	Aug 1 – Sep 30, 2022	Submission Deadline: Opening Ceremonies @ Rally in the Valley
